The temperance tea party at the residence of Rev. Mr. Atkins, Tuesday evening, was highly enjoyable.

Hon. Thomas M. Scott and Mr. S. R. Nelson, attended the Richmond convention as delegates from this place.

Wild Rose Missionary will give a "Tom Thumb" supper and an entertainment at the town hall at a very early date.

At the conclusion of the services in the Baptist Church, Sunday night, Rev. J. B. Pruitt baptized Miss Ethel Parks and Mrs. Ellison Guy.

Strawberries are moving very brisk from this section. Capt. Thomas Johnson and Mr. Thos. A. Northam, are shipping the earliest varieties to F. S. Gibson, of Philadelphia.

The interest of F. A. Slocumb, deceased, in firm of Slocumb & Ames, has been purchased by the surviving partner and others. Mr. Ames purposes converting one of his large rooms into a "racket store" to run off the large stock of goods purchased from the old firm at prices to suit buyers.

Wm. F. Joynes, the clever first officer of the steamer Pocomoke, has been promoted to the position of captain in the Eastern Shore Steamboat Co. It is said he will be in charge of steamer Maggie, which comes on line this week. Mr. Joynes is looked up to by the travelling public of this section as a competent and reliable steamboat man.

Chincoteague.
Best creamery butter at Matthews' store at 30 cents per pound.

Eggs plentiful on our marshes this season, and our people are gathering them in daily.

Mr. John R. Tarr returned home this week from a business trip to Philadelphia.

Fish of fine quality and in good variety are now being caught at sea by our citizens. They never were finer at this time of the year.

Capt. S. J. Mumford and wife gave a tea party to all our ministers and their families last week, and "it goes without saying" entertained them elegantly.

Mr. Isaac Coffin reported seriously ill in last issue of ENTERPRISE, died on 14th inst., aged 71 years. He was one of our leading merchants and a highly respected citizen.

A union revival meeting is now in progress at our M. P. Church, conducted by the pastors of Baptist and Methodist Churches, and participated by members of all denominations here.

Game abundant with us at this time, and the Atlantic Hotel is liberally patronized by sportsmen from the northern cities. Each one "begs" from 100 to 500 birds daily according to his skill in handling the gun.

Mr. Luks C. Lewis and Mrs. Jane Lewis were married in Philadelphia, on 15th inst., and left by train on that day for this place, their future home. On their arrival here a handsome supper was served to numerous friends at groom's house.

Mr. Southey L. Goffigon, returned home this week, after an absence of three months.

Mr. N. B. Wescott represented this section as a delegate to the Richmond convention last Thursday.

A mad dog made things lively here for a short while last week. It was dispatched very promptly and before it had done any damage.

Belle Haven.
Mr. Don Walling and wife removed this week to Philadelphia, where they will make their future home. They leave behind many warm friends.

Children's day was celebrated last Sunday evening by the Methodist Sabbath school. The exercises were very interesting and well rendered. The decorations of the stage were especially beautiful, and never before surpassed on the Eastern Shore. The church was filled to overflowing.

To my Patrons and Friends.
Locustville Hotel having been thoroughly cleansed and disinfected, under the supervision of my family physicians, I am now ready to entertain guests with the same degree of comfort, as I have done in the past, and solicit a share of your patronage.

Very respectfully,
W. A. BLOOM.

Address of Ex-Confederate Memorial Committee.

To the People of Accomac and Northampton:

Thirty-one years ago many of your youth, and men in their prime, heard the call to arms, and inspired by motives of lofty patriotism, with ardor obeyed it. Freely, cheerfully, without a murmur, they left home and all they held dear to bear, for four fearful years, the burdens, the sufferings, all the ills of "grim visaged war," for a cause they believed just. Of all who went more than one-fourth never returned. With Stonewall Jackson, J. E. B. Stuart and thousands of others of strong and heroic souls, they "crossed over the river and laid down under the trees" to rest forever.

From Gettysburg to the Gulf, from the Mississippi to the Sea, the thirty earth drank of their blood, and on many a hard fought field their bones lay bleaching. Wherever duty called, where shot flew thickest, where steel fell fastest, where danger was greatest, where the bravest stood, and most men died, there were they.

Strangers have gathered their bones and laid them to rest; strangers with loving hearts and tender care, have each recurring year decked their graves; strangers have upreared columns to honor them as a part of the great army of the "Unknown Dead." We, their own people, with twenty-seven years passed since peace came, have no memorial of them.

Their old comrades associated as Harpersburg West Camp of Confederate Veterans, have determined to raise to their memory a monument to tell coming generations of their courage and unselfish devotion. To this end the Camp has chosen a committee to solicit aid and make an appeal to you.

We feel that no appeal is necessary. We feel that you who bade them God speed when they were hastening to the front to offer—aye to give their lives in defense of Virginia, will deem it a pleasant privilege to contribute freely towards the erection of a suitable monument commemorative of the Eastern Shore's gallant dead.

These men needed no appeal from you to fight in defense of you and your homes. Unasked they pledged life and honor for your defense—and gave their lives. Duty called—they answered—and died as brave men die.

Ask of them at Roanoke Island, at Yorktown, at Williamsburg, at Seven Pines, The Seven Days Fights, at Gettysburg, in front of Petersburg, at Five Forks, at Sailor's Creek, on nearly every battlefield from Pennsylvania to Texas. Then you will learn somewhat of the men who were always in the van of duty and the forefront of battle, and who with peerless Lee made the last charge at Appomattox.

Our appeal is not to the Shylock, "That sordid soul, Whose love of gold No generous impulse knows," but to the heart that throbs with patriotic impulse and holds sacred the memory of our fallen comrades.

We believe that in your heart of hearts you are proud of them; that you honor them and would perpetuate their memory.

People of the Eastern Shore, they are your dead. Guard well their memory.

In conclusion, the committee hopes that you will not wait to be approached for contributions. It would ill accord with the spirit which should actuate our people in this matter; it would appear as a lack of respect and veneration for the ashes of our brave dead, to erect this proposed monument with funds begged for and perhaps reluctantly given. As these men freely and voluntarily offered their lives in your defense, it is to be hoped that you will thus freely and voluntarily bring forward your contributions for the purpose of keeping the remembrance of them alive.

For the Committee,
JAS. W. BROUGHTON,
JOHN H. WISE,
G. T. SCARBURGH,
L. DIX WARREN,
L. J. NOTTINGHAM,
L. S. NOTTINGHAM,
H. C. JOHNSON,

For cheap ready made clothing, go to D. H. Johnson. Full line of men's, boy's and children's suits from $2 up.

Cadetship V. M. I.
To the Editor of ENTERPRISE:—

In answer to the notice relative to the vacant cadetship at the V. M. I., published in your paper of recent date, I received several applications for the place. I wrote to Gen'l Shipp, stating that if I had the power of appointment as Senator from this district, I would make it by competitive examination. He answered, stating that he favored that mode of selection, and that while the Board of Visitors had the appointing power, he was reasonably sure that they would appoint the one receiving my endorsement. I have therefore decided to have a competitive examination. It will be conducted by Prof. James G. Nock, S. Upshur Hopkins and Wm. S. Bond. It will be held at the Court House, on Friday, the 30th of June, beginning at 10 a. m. The examination will be on the branches usually taught in the public schools, and will be more a test of thoroughness than advancement. I desire that all applicants shall send in their applications to me in writing on or before the first day of May court. I will endorse for the cadetship the successful competitor in the examination, as may appear from the opinion of the examining board. Invite all persons desirous of the position to participate in the examination.

Will you kindly publish this for two issues of your paper, as I consider it the best mode of giving publicity to the examination.

Yours respectfully,
J. W. G. BLACKSTONE.

Cape Charles Harbor.

WASHINGTON, D. C., May 12.—The Senate Committee on Commerce today reported the River and Harbor bill with amendments. In the Virginia appropriations the only changes made are as follows:

The entire proviso in relation to the improvement of the harbor at Cape Charles City, for which $10,000 is appropriated, is stricken out and the following substituted:

That before any Government money shall be expended in the improvement of this harbor or any of its approaches the said New York, Philadelphia and Norfolk Railroad Company shall execute and file with the Secretary of War a paper satisfactory to said Secretary of War, giving to any and all vessels, upon any and all occasions, for all time to come, the right to enter and remain in said harbor and transact business therein, without charge, except legitimate, usual and reasonable wharf charges.

The House provision required that the basin and approach should be deeded to the United States, together with a public landing. In short, that the property to be improved should be absolutely conveyed to the United States.

Of the items for Virginia rivers the appropriation of $3,000 for improving the Lower Machodoc creek is stricken out; the $30,000 for Rappahannock river is reduced to $10,000.

Under the Maryland items an appropriation of $35,000 is inserted for the inland waterway from Chincoteague bay, Virginia, to Delaware bay, Delaware.

MR. JONES WILL OPPOSE THE CHANGE. Representative Jones says he will make a determined fight against the reduction proposed by the Senate Commerce Committee in its amendments to the River and Harbor bill of $10,000 in the appropriation for Rappahannock river. He says the sum is proportionately small; that even $20,000 is small in comparison with the importance of the river and its commerce. Mr. Jones hopes to have the $20,000 restored in conference. He is also dissatisfied with the change in the provision in regard to Cape Charles City harbor. The Senate provision leaves the property to be improved in possession of the railroad company. Mr. Jones insists that if the Government is going to spend money for improvements the property should be conveyed to the United States and he will make this point in the House.—Richmond Times.

Horsemen, Take Notice!

Farmers' Institute at Cape Charles.
MR. EDITOR:—The Farmers' Institute will be held at Cape Charles, May 1st. At 10 a. m., the meeting will be called to order in the Opera House. A band of music will be in attendance.

Four lectures will be delivered on subjects of interest to Eastern Shore farmers. This is the first meeting of the kind ever held on the Eastern Shore.

All must come, and hear what is to be said. It will start farmers to thinking in new lines about their own business. It is what we need to help us along.

Reduced rates will be obtained on the railroad.

Yours respectfully,
ORRIS A. BROWNE.
Cape Charles, Va., May 1st, 1892.

Card of Thanks.
MR. EDITOR:—Allow me to thank the many friends who came to my aid in assisting to make up for me the amount of my recent loss. I had no right to expect such a token of kindness, nor had I any claim upon my churches or my friends, hence I appreciate more highly the kindness that prompted them to take this step.

Yours &c.,
V. W. BARGAMIN.
Accomac C. H., Va., May 19th, 1892.
